HEAVY VOTE IN HENRICO

The Registration Begun Yesterday So Indicates.

CONTEST FOR THE HOUSE

It is One of the Hottest Ever Waged in the County-It is Thought that at Least 2,500 Votes Will Be Cast.

The new registration in Henrico county began yesterday with every indication that it will develop into an item of no inconsiderable importance. An unusually large number of new names were added in the one precinct opened, and there is a strong likelihood that the same fact will be noted throughout the length and breadth of the county.

breadth of the county.

Several hundred people, who for one reason or another were not listed before, will get in upon this occasion, and in ample time to have a voice in the coming

At a time when, as in the present cam paign, every vote will count for its full value, the addition of so many full-flodged voters is a matter of no small importance. In one or two cases a number of candidates are hotly persuing each other for the same office and the plurality necessary to elect has been correspondingly reduced. With six candidates for the Legislature in the field, for instance, it will need a fewer number of votes to elect any one of them than would be the case if there were only two. In other cases, the fight is so evenly pitched between two candidates that every vote is figured upon. Hence the value of the individual ballot has been accentuated. Where otherwise it might be lost in the number, it is now a thing that has to be considered and counted on, since two or three of them may serve to turn the tide.

MATTER OF MOMENT.

For this reason the new registration, which was literally forced on the county, is a matter of much moment. For this reason, furthermore, it is a source of intense concern to the candidates. Up to about two weeks ago they were preity well fixed with reference to the campaign. The county had been canvassed and all that was now awaited was the primary aign, every vota will count for its full alue, the addition of so many full-fledged

MATTER OF MOMENT.

For this reason the new registration, which was literally forced on the county, is a matter of much moment. For this reason, furthermore, it is a source of intense concern to the candidates. Up to about two weeks ago they were pretty well fixed with reference to the campaign. The county had been canvassed and all that was now awaited was the primary itself. But, suddenly came the new registration, find a new and unknown quantity to be fixing upon the perch again and once more took to the road and there they are still. From now on until the day preceding the primary registration will be going on over the county. Howard's Grove, in Fairfield, opened up yesterday, and, as stated above, an unusually large number of persons took the opportunity to register their names. The dates when the other polls will be opened are as follows: August 23th—Baker's, in Fairfield; Four-Mile Creek, in Varina; Jones', in Brookland, and one precinct in Tuckahoe.

August 29th—Carter's, in Varina; Boresine in Tuckahoe.

Number of proposal probably and the probably take the fight is going to be closer than four precincts in Tuckahoe.

Reptember 2d—One precinct in Tuckahoe.

Number's Store, Town Hall and Whitlock's, in Varina; Boresine two determined the will probably goth in best vote that will be resorted to turn the disc.

IN BROOKLAND DISTRICT.

Brookland is large district, in which both Messrs. Gardner winders and Rosensek precinct in Tuckahoe.

September 2d—One precinct in Tuckahoe.

IN FULL CRY.

The campaign continues in full cry, There will be a meeting nearly every night this week, and lively times are in prospect. Last night there was a large gathering at Toney's store in Pairfield. To-night there will be a meeting at Gordon's, in the same district; to-morrow night at Toney's: Friday at Melton's store, Graded Road, two miles above Solomon's; Saturday at Seven Pines, ond on the following Tuesday at Hardin's Shop.

All the candidates are hard at work. The big contests—for clerk, for treasurer, for the House of Delegates, for Commonwealth's Attorney—are still on in good style, and each man claims himself a sure winner. The contest for the office of shoriff has by many been considered a one-sided affair, with the odds strongly with Solomon, but the friends of Mr. Tiller declare that such is not the case. Once before Mr. Tiller made a good run against Mr. Solomon, and he believes that the radical change in the conditions this year makes the situation all the more faworable to him. He has made a close, personal canvass, and believes that he has the office in his grasp. His friends are enthusiastic over his candidacy, and declare that he is a sure winner.

CONTEST FOR THE HOUSE.

The contest for the seat in the House of Delegates is one of the most hotly contested in the entire State. In no other county of the State are then so many apprants for one seat, nor is the campaign closer or the result more uncertain than here.

There are six candidates in the field.

Traffic Manager.

There are six candidates in the field, every one of whom will almost certainly prove a factor in the result, and at least three of them promise to be close competitors for the coveted honor. Of the five, one, Mr. Gardner, is already a member of the House, while two others, Messrs. Felix M. Jones and W. J. Bin-Bford, are ex-members of that body. Mr. Binford was elected to the House in 1885, defeating one or more contestants for the honor at a time when the senatorship was a lively issue. Mr. Jones was elected some years ago as a compromise candidate in the convention when the forces of Messrs. Maupin and Gardner, the leading contostants, were decidocked. The other three candidates are Judge T. Ashby Wickham, now judge of the County Court; Mr. A. von N. Rosenegk, a well known Gorman-American, engaged in the browery business and widely known and popular in the county, and Mr. James R. Russell. With these aspirants all in the race and all making an active canvass and speaking to small audiences in various parts of the county in the ovening, the campaign is fast reaching a very heated stage, where in complimentary epithots are not always the only ones indulged in. POLL 2,500 VOTES.

It is estimated that the county will poil 2,500 votes in the primary on Soptember 3d, and there is great diversity of opinion among the people as to who will win. The locality whence the candidates come and their relative strength at the larger precincts are the best means by which to form an idea as to the result. There are five districts and sixteen, precincts in the county, but eight of these are large precincts, and in these the result will be decided. Three of the candidates are from Tuckahoe district—Messrs, Jones, Wickham and Russell; two from Brookland district—Messrs. Rosenegk and Gardner, while Mr. Binford, the other candidates are from Tuckahoe district—Messrs, Jones, Wickham and Russell; two from Brookland district—Messrs. Rosenegk and Gardner, while Mr. Binford, the other candidates are from Tuckahoe district—Messrs, Jones, Wickham and Russell; two from Brookland district—Messrs. Rosenegk and Gardner, while Mr. Binford, the other candidates are from Tuckahoe district—Messrs, Jones, Wickham and Russell; two from Brookland district—Messrs. Jones, with about 18

MONEY TO FIGHT THE CONSTITUTION

Negroes Have Contributed About $10,000 for this Purpose.

Purpose.

The negro Agricultural and Industrial Association adjourned sine die yesterday atternoon after a session of two days held in this city.

The chief aim of the association at the present time is in the direction of raising sufficient money for the prosecution of the work of fighting the new Constitution of Virginia. Reports on this feature showed that about $10,000 in all had been subscribed. No plans were decided upon. The work will be pushed along the lines already laid down.

A decidedly lively discussion occurred when the names of some of those who have given money were not read out on the list of those who contributed. It developed that one or two of the collectors in the rural districts had never made a report of the money which came into their hands. This fact caused a very considerable site, and there was much talk on the subject.

Dr. R. E. Jones made announcement of the Farmers' Congress to be held here in October. The full programme for their meeting has not yet been arranged, but will be announced later.

Night.

The final rehearsul for the Amateur Circus will take place to-morrow night, when every performer, clown, and in fact everybody connected with the performance, including the Blues' Band of thirty pleces, will be present to go the control of the control o formance, including the Blues' Band of thirty pleces, will be present to go through the part assigned them. Warkmen have been busy at the building for the past week, getting everything in shape for the exhibition. All of the apparatus has been put in position, and the Horse Show birning would hardly be recognized, so great a change has been made in its interior.

The act of the Great De Van will no doubt cause a sensution. It is one of the most daring exhibitions ever attempted by any performer. The trick dog. Daisy Bell, and the educated dankey, Jupiter, will delight the young folks, for the special benefit of whom the matinee performance will be given Saturday, there being two exhibitions on that day.

not improbable that we shall not be able to roport their progress during some pe-riods of the race.

Judge Clarke.

Judge Walter Clarke, of North Carolina, has finally emerged from that position of semi-obscurity which attaches to the list of presidential eligibles personally conducted by Mr. William Jennings Bryan, The distinguished jurist of the Tarheel State made a speech before the Virginia Bar Association on Saturday and demonstrated his familiarity with Egyplian, Roman and Jewish history. He likewise displayed his antipathy for trusts, and proved himself a man who was not advocating an income tax and the Government ownership of "those things now controlled by trusts."

It is very evident that Judge Clarke is not a compromise candidate, in fact, it may be said that he out-Bryans Bryan in his fearless exposition of the faith that is in him. He is handy with metaphor, and he fully justifies Mr. Bryan's predilection in his favor. In fact, Judge Clarke has done so well that the public will probably be anxious to read a speech from another favorite of the Nebraska editor, Judge White, of Illinois.—Baltimore Hurald. Judge Clarke.
